Meet Lidia, she is 55 years old, She forgets her childhood, her growing-up years, her marriage, and her children. Gradually, she cannot recognize anyone around her. She is in a world of her own.

Sp Adobe Spark

Unlike Lidia, Martha remembers everything, is very clear about memories of growing up and childhood, and can narrate anecdotes with date, day, and year. She can also take care of herself independently. However, in the present, she begins seeing people and objects around her that are not there. We see her sitting alone in a room, having a conversation with herself. But she is talking to someone .

Alzheimer's Disease

This is the most common cause of dementia. During the course of the disease, the chemistry and structure of the brain changes, leading to the death of brain cells.

Problems with day to day memory loss are often noticed first, but other symptoms include difficulty with problem solving and decision making

Vascular Dementia:

: If the oxygen supply to the brain fails, braincells may die. The symptoms of vascular dementia can occur either suddenly, following a stroke, or over time through a series of small strokes. The symptoms of vascular dementia vary and may overlap with Alzheimer's disease

Dementia with Lewy bodies:

:This form of dementia gets its name from tiny spherical structures that develop inside nerve cells. Their presence in the brain leads to the degeneration of brain tissue. Early symptoms can include fluctuating alertness, difficulties with judging distances and hallucinations

Fronto-temporal dementia:

RELATION TO OVERALL HEALTH

Presentations are communication tools that can be used as demonstrations, lectures, speeches, reports, and more. It is mostly presented before an audience.

It serves a variety of purposes, making presentations powerful tools for convincing and teaching.
